

This Flowers and Colors

This is a great song for May Day—or any time in the spring! Use this short simple song to teach colors either with words or ASL (American Sign Language). I have sung it slowly to allow small hands to form the signs easily. Videos showing how to sign the colors can be found at the wonderful website, www.Handspeak.com. For direct links to all the individual colors got to this song on my website at it's Song of the Month page. If you have never used Handspeak before, be sure to bookmark it! It has a dictionary and is very easy to use.

This also makes a great preschool performance song.
Short and sweet!

Flowers grow from the seeds below
In every color of the rainbow
Red and yellow, green and blue
Pink and purple and orange too

I will pick the flowers I grow
In every color of the rainbow
Pink and purple and orange and blue
To make a pretty bouquet for you
