November 2013 Song of the Month from www.nancymusic.com

Billy Barlow

Traditional with additional words by Nancy Stewart

Once again my song of the month has been gleaned from my Sing With Our Kids Project (www.SingWithOurKids.com). I recently met a wonderful librarian who contributed a great article on my Tips and Tricks from the Experts page. His five songs included a couple I didn't know, and this is one of them. I modified the lyrics from hunting with a gun to fishing with a pole, but other than that, this is the song. I've found it stuck in my head, and the children I sing with at school visits are finding it equally irresistible! Be sure to read Rick's article and what he says about the song and singing with kids. He's a wonderful writer and his insight a both a new father and children's librarian are great food for thought (no pun intended!).
